Speaker: Preethi Narayanan

Preethi Narayanan is currently working at Amazon. I manage a team of engineers who are building a device to enable some cool technologies for consumers. It is an amazing time in engineering and technology in general and I have been part of these technological breakthroughs for about 20 years now. I have a Bachelor's degree in Electronics and communications and a Master's degree in software engineering. Before joining Amazon, I worked for 15 years at Motorola, at different locations, and in different teams. I have been fortunate to be part of developing bleeding edge technologies and to work with extremely talented engineers from around the world. I would like to see more women engineers making bigger impacts in technology and would like to share some of his experiences and some amazing opportunities available in this field.
